The Brookline Senior Center is a Welcoming Community.

FROM THE DIRECTOR

Dear Friends,

Twenty-five years ago, the Brookline Senior Center was built on a simple yet powerful intention: for older adults to have their own place in Brookline where they can enjoy a daily meal, socialize, and meet new people. Over the past quarter century, that idea has grown into something far greater. The Senior Center has become a lifeline — a “third” place in addition to people’s first place in the home and second place in their working lives — and, for many, a second home.

And now, together, we ask: what comes next?

This past year, we’ve already begun shaping that answer by expanding our team, opening our doors wider to intergenerational connections, partnering with multiple organizations, adding technology, and creating incredibly meaningful programming and volunteer opportunities that bridge generations — all while putting an age-friendly lens on town projects to support and represent our community.

The truth is, in 2026 we are serving more older adults than ever before. Our population is growing — both in number and in wisdom — which means we must, and we will, expand. My vision includes a second Senior Community Center on Fisher Hill — not someday in the abstract, but as a real, necessary next chapter in how we serve this community. A place that extends our reach, reduces barriers, and ensures that no one is left on the margins because of geography, mobility, or capacity.

My commitment to you is this: a future rooted in equity, where programming and services are accessible, inclusive, and reflective of all who call this community home.

The last 25 years have shown us that when a community comes together with purpose, there is nothing it cannot build. That is why I am inviting you into a participatory future. The success of this Senior Center — its next 25 years — will be determined by all of us. We need your voice, your urgency, and your hope in this work. The future we build must be active. It must be collective. And it must be bold. Share your ideas and make your voice part of the next 25 years at our senior celebration Thursday, June 18 at 1:00pm. See page 10 for details.

Happy Pride Month! And a special warm wish to all the dads out there Happy Father’s Day.

Sincerely,

Emily J. Williams
Director

FROM THE BOARD PRESIDENT

Dear Friends of the Brookline Senior Center Foundation,

I hope you're enjoying warmer weather, spending more time outdoors, and discovering new interests. We're fortunate to have the Brookline Senior Center — a place where you can participate in a wide array of activities, make new friends, volunteer, and access life sustaining services.

Recently I asked a woman at the Senior Center what she likes about our Senior Center. She was quick to respond. She said that in Brookline, there are many talented and accomplished people who retire and look for meaning in their post-work life years. Some of those people become Brookline Senior Center presenters, program facilitators, and participants. Her observation is reflected in the variety of offerings in this newsletter. We're fortunate to live in a Town where people value the arts, cultural activities, and fitness.

In addition, and critical to this perspective, is the acknowledgement and appreciation of our Senior Center staff. Emily Williams, Council on Aging and Senior Center Director, oversees a wonderful team of dedicated individuals who work tirelessly to support Brookline seniors. Each and every staff person at the Brookline Senior Center plays an important role, and you can learn more about our skilled and dedicated staff on our website: <https://www.brooklineseniorcenter.org>.

Living in an intellectually stimulating community and benefitting from competent, caring Brookline Senior Center staff enables us to offer an exceptional depth and breadth of programming. And I believe that the third component of what sets us apart is the culture of the Brookline Senior Center, promoted by participants, staff, and volunteers. While we're represented by many different cultures, values, and socio-economic backgrounds, warmth, respect, and tolerance permeate the building. The Brookline Senior Center is truly a valuable community resource!

Warm regards,

Betsy Pollock, MSW
Brookline Senior Center Foundation Board President

MEET COUNCIL ON AGING CHAIR YOLANDA RODRIGUEZ

Written by Miriam Rosalyn Diamond, Council on Aging Engagement Promoter

Yolanda Rodriguez, Chair of Brookline’s Council on Aging, received the inaugural Volunteer Appreciation Award for Advocacy at April’s Volunteer Appreciation Event. She collaborates with the COA staff to plan agendas, invites engaging speakers, and conducts board meetings that oversee Town efforts to care for seniors. “I see myself mostly as an advocate for the Senior Center.”

There are 350 mandated COAs across Massachusetts. Their mission is “to help older adults maintain independence, and well-being to live in the community as long as possible” through the promotion of policies that support health, nutrition, transportation, parking, fitness, socialization, and activities.

Yolanda first came to the Senior Center — following retirement from serving as Math teacher and department head — to take Sue Katz’s musical exercise classes. “It just grew into a community of friends.”

“At one point, someone suggested I join the Council on Aging board, and then they needed someone to be the representative to Springwell” (an organization that provides services assisting people who live in the community). Around 2018, she was invited to be Council Vice Chair, and when the Chair stepped down, Yolanda agreed to help out.

“This place is so unusual” she says of the Senior Center. “They have the best staff I have ever seen. They’re so dedicated and so giving and they work so hard... We have over 300 volunteers who make this place run... We are so lucky to have the people we have here... Everybody is willing to help each other... I love to watch the friendships and the closeness.”

When asked about her hopes for the future, Yolanda states “I would like to see the Senior Center be available to all Brookline Seniors who would like to be part of it by having meetings, classes, and events all over town.” (In addition to its Winchester Street location, the Center currently offers Social Work assistance for seniors at the Putterham Library on the second Wednesday morning each month.)

She also envisions expanded space with more room for programs, which requires securing additional funding.

Council on Aging Board meetings, typically held at the Senior Center 1:00 pm on the 2nd Wednesday of the month, are open to the public.

The date and time of the current month’s meeting is announced each month in the “Updates” section of the newsletter.

People who prefer to participate via Zoom can email for the link at: jmillegee@brooklinema.gov.

VALUED VOLUNTEERS

SHOP (STUDENTS HELPING OLDER PEOPLE)

A collaboration between the Brookline Senior Center and Brookline High School (BHS), the SHOP program has been a community service program at BHS for many years. High school student volunteers are matched with seniors to do their grocery shopping for the school year. In turn, seniors help the students fulfill their community service requirements. Frequently, these become meaningful multigenerational relationships. Some students have shopped for the same person throughout high school and consider their elder an important part of their life.

If you are a senior currently using the SHOP program and your student is unable to shop for you over the summer, please contact Valerie if you need summer shopping assistance. If you are a senior who would like to learn more about the program or a high school student who would like to become a SHOP volunteer, please contact Valerie, Volunteer Coordinator, at 617-730-2743 or ygraf@brooklinema.gov.

VISITING VOLUNTEERS

Are you interested in weekly social visits with seniors in their home? Volunteers are matched with seniors in the community for weekly friendly visits to help with social isolation common for so many homebound seniors. Volunteers will receive initial training and ongoing support from a Brookline Senior Center Social Worker. Please reach out with our Volunteer Coordinator, Valerie Graf, at ygraf@brooklinema.gov or 617-730-2743.

If you or a family member could benefit from a weekly social visit, please reach out to our Social Worker, Sharon Sandalow, at ssandalow@brooklinema.gov or 617-730-2769. The next round of the Visiting Volunteers program will begin in the fall, but please reach out earlier to learn more and be added to the waitlist.

VALUED VOLUNTEERS OF THE BROOKLINE SENIOR CENTER MAILINGS GROUP

The Brookline Senior Center's mailing volunteers were recently honored as a group when nominated for the 2026 Volunteer of the Year Award. Each month, this dedicated team comes together to ensure that the Brookline Beacon newsletter reaches approximately 600 seniors in our community.

What makes this group especially remarkable is their flexibility and commitment. They often step in with less than 24 hours' notice to get the job done. At the heart of the team is their unofficial leader, Michael Weston, who keeps the mailings organized, while also making the experience enjoyable. With his music playing in the background, he creates a welcoming and upbeat atmosphere as everyone works together. As Michael puts it, "I like to keep it low key and lighthearted." He takes the time to teach each new volunteer so they feel confident working on their own which fosters a true sense of community.

In addition to the monthly Beacon, this group frequently assists with other Brookline Senior Center and Foundation mailings as well. They recently completed a large mailing for the 25th Anniversary Celebration. Their reliability and teamwork are integral to keeping the community connected to all that the Senior Center and Council on Aging have to offer.

We are very grateful for this core group of volunteers who are always ready to lend a hand at a moment's notice.

SCAMS

PROTECT YOUR IDENTITY, MONEY & INFORMATION: MADE AN ONLINE PURCHASE? BE WARY OF RECALL NOTIFICATIONS!

Written by Miriam Rosalyn Diamond, Council on Aging Engagement Promoter

Scam Description

Customers using online sales companies such as Amazon, receive messages indicating that an item purchased has malfunctions and/or is being recalled. When one clicks on the provided link, it leads to a sham page phishing for personal information that can be used to commit identity theft.

Spot the Scam

- The text or email is unexpected and appears legitimate, including logos.
- It indicates that there are flaws with the purchased object.
- The communication states that the company will provide a refund (sometimes regardless of whether the item is returned.)
- The recipient is directed to click a link to request the money due them.
- The link takes people to a page that asks for bank, credit card numbers, and other details.

Stop the Scam

- Do not click on links or reply to these notices.
- If you think the alert might be valid, verify it directly with the company via their official email or phone number (not one listed in the notification or found in a random web search).
- Review your account with the business using a genuine website and look for statements about recalls.
- Use the "Report Junk" or "Report Spam" option on your device or forward these texts to 7726 ("Spam"). Then delete the message.

Prevention

ASK A GERIATRICIAN

Dr. Suzanne Salamon, Chief Associate of Clinical Geriatrics at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, answers your general questions about aging and geriatric medicine in this column every month.

If you have a question or a topic you've been wondering about, please send it to the newsletter editor at kjarner@brooklinema.gov.

TOENAIL FUNGUS

Question: My toenails are thick and discolored. Is there anything I can do to get them back to normal?

Answer: Most likely you have toenail fungus. The medical term for this is onychomycosis. It's very common — about 10% of the general population is affected. It looks like thick, discolored nails that sometimes separate from the nail bed. Fungus grows best in warm moist settings, so shoes and sweaty socks are great places for fungus to prosper.

Toenail fungus tends to be more common in older adults because of weaker immune systems, diabetes, or poor circulation. It is important to try to treat it, although it is not an easy fix. If left untreated, fungus can get worse, can cause the nail to become thick, brittle, discolored, and potentially separate from the nail bed. It can spread to other nails, cause pain when wearing shoes, lead to infections like athlete's foot, or require permanent nail removal and can cause an unpleasant odor.

Treating toenail fungus is a slow process.

- The most successful treatment is a pill called terbinafine (Lamisil). However, there are so many possible side effects that it is rarely prescribed, including diarrhea, nausea, stomach pain, gas, or indigestion, headaches, rashes, weight loss, depression, fatigue, and most serious, liver and blood disease.

- There are several prescriptions and over the counter topical treatments for toenail fungus. Some are put on like nail polish that you apply once a day. This medicine often needs to be removed from your toe every week. It can take a year for the new nail to grow out, so you have to be patient and diligent about daily application.

To prevent toenail fungus in the first place:

- Keep your feet clean and dry. Wash and dry between your toes and change socks if they get wet. Antifungal powder may help.
- If you are in a public shower, pool, or locker room, don't go barefoot! Fungus is contagious. Wear flip flops.
- Keep your nails trimmed and don't share nail clippers
- Limit your use of nail polish. It's tempting to try to hide toenail fungus with colorful nail polish, but nail polish acts as a warm, moist barrier which causes the fungus to grow faster and also prevents topical treatment from reaching the nail.

So check your nails, and if you see any early signs of discolorations of your nails, speak to your PCP or podiatrist about starting treatment and prevention.
